AXIS ON VERGE OF "BLACK SEA DUNKERQUE"

Allied Air Blows Paving Way for Assault in Africa

250,000 Nazis And Satellites Jammed In West Caucasus

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Axis troops by the tens of thousands were apparently on the verge of a "Black Sea Dunkerque" today and some reports declared that Russian warships and planes were already smashing at German transports as the invaders attempted a sea-borne escape from the Caucasus to the Crimea peninsula.

Latest Soviet dispatches said upwards of 250,000 German troops and their satellites, jammed into a narrow coastal strip in the western Caucasus, were in imminent danger of being split apart by Russian columns driving toward the Sea of Azov.

Soviet headquarters reported that the Red armies were now only 30 miles from the great German base at Rostov, whose fall would cut off the land "escape corridor" of Hitler's Caucasian armies, after capturing the town of Kagalnikskaya on the Salsk-Rostov railway.

Other major developments in the global war saw Britain's giant home-based bombers, perhaps 300 strong, blast the German North Sea port of Hamburg, while Allied planes and submarines took a toll of at least 14 Axis ships sunk in the Mediterranean.

The threat to Hitler's armies below Rostov dominated a picture of cascading triumphs by the Red armies along a 600-mile front. London heard that Russia's Black Sea fleet and Soviet planes were pounding Nazi transports below the narrow Kerch Strait, which separates the Caucasus from the Crimea, and the Berlin radio significantly noted that the Germans still controlled two escape bridgeheads—one on the Kerch Strait, the other at the Don delta below Rostov.

Hitler's field headquarters indicated that critical battles were already raging in the region of Kharlov, the "Ukraine Pittsburgh," with the Red armies stepping up their offensive.

Meanwhile, Soviet dispatches reported that the German siege army at Stalingrad was crossing the Volga at last, steadily plodding across the ice toward prison camps far behind the battlefronts. Pravda said many of the captured.

Estimate Of Steel Needs
Placed Low

Harrisburg, Feb. 4.—(P)—The senate war investigating committee declared today the United States will produce barely enough steel this year "to satisfy the major war necessities," and listed these three factors as responsible for "our current steel shortage."

1. An underestimate by the armed forces of the amount of steel needed under war conditions.

2. "The desire of the big steel companies to prevent any expansion that might react unfavorably against their control of the steel industry after the war."

3. Delay by the War Production Board in converting industry to a war basis.

The committee declared, in an interim report, that "the entire steel scrap collection program should be revamped."

Even though the United States last year came within 3,000,000 tons of producing as much steel as all the rest of the world, the report said. A shortage still exists.

NAVAL UNITS MANEUVERING FOR POSITION

United States and Jap Fleets Sparring For Stance From Which to Get in Knockout

NIGHT BOMBING ATTACK

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Like two heavyweight boxers feeling each other out, flicking tentative but punishing jabs here and there, United States and Japanese naval units are maneuvering in the South-west Pacific for a stance from which to throw a haymaker.

From this corner there was only word that air and surface engagements "are continuing," but it appeared from the navy's restraint that a titanic struggle was shaping up for control of Guadalcanal island with its all-important airfield.

Naval spokesmen repeated that both sides have suffered losses, but one of them emphasized that "the whole thing is a sparring for position, with the two major fleet units not yet joined in an all-out slugfest."

Both sides were swapping aerial blows.

The Japanese, it was revealed in delayed dispatches from the U. S. fleet in the South Pacific, released today, made their first night bombing attack on American surface vessels in the Guadalcanal area after dusk January 29, but the results were not disclosed.

Officers of the fleet recalled that Japanese planes dropped flares during the night battle off Savo Island August 9, when three U. S. cruisers were sunk, and it was believed the night assault last week might indicate a resumption of Japanese aerial activity which had been strangely absent in the Solomons recently.

The dispatches said the enemy airmen dropped mysteriously out of the night sky while a unit of the Southwest Pacific fleet was cruising near Guadalcanal.

The night bombing took place last Friday, the date on which the Tokyo radio said Japanese planes had started attacks on American battleships and cruisers which resulted in the sinking of two battleships and three cruisers off Rennell Island.

Naval spokesmen here said the Japanese claims were "grossly exaggerated" though it was known that both sides had suffered losses in the skirmishes in the Guadalcanal area.

Today there were new Japanese.

Nelson Heard
By W.P.B. On Labor Needs

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board told the senate military committee today the nation would draw upon a "pool" of 6,400,000 persons this year to meet growing demands of the armed forces and war industry.

This pool, Nelson told the closed session, will be made up of 2,700,000 workers drawn from less essential industries, 1,900,000 women, 800,000 boys and old men, 500,000 employables, including physically defective, not now working, and 500,000 persons made available by 48-hour work weeks throughout essential industry.

Nelson's figures were disclosed.

WAR BULLETINS

New York, Feb. 4.—(P)—President Roosevelt congratulated the United Service Organizations today on two years of work "well done."

Pittsburgh, Feb. 4.—(P)—Senator James J. Davis urged today that America concentrate on the production and distribution of war weapons rather than building a "tremendously large army," a part of which, he said, might have to remain idle for lack of supplies.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) introduced a resolution today which would put the senate on record as approving the basic principles of the Atlantic Charter and advising President Roosevelt to negotiate immediately a "post-war peace charter" with other United Nations.

London, Feb. 4.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden intimated to the house of commons today that a government statement on the war situation would be forthcoming soon. Political circles believed that Prime Minister Churchill would deliver the statement.

London, Feb. 4.—(P)—A Japanese communique reported by DNB in a German broadcast today asserted one cruiser had been sunk, one had been heavily damaged and 33 planes shot down in a Japanese.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—A robbery angle as a possible motive for the slaying of pretty Estelle Carey (above) took on added significance today on the strength of a report that a man was seen fleeing from her apartment shortly before she was killed Tuesday.

Deadline For War Orders Is Causing Row

Deluge of Complaints and Inquiries Coming In
From Industries

CONFUSION TERRIFIC

BY STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—An unpublished War Production Board decision to make Feb. 6 the last day for placing war orders for the first six months of 1943 brought a deluge of complaints and inquiries from industry today.

The action was taken by Charles E. Wilson, vice chairman in charge of production, and informed persons said privately that it had widened a gradually growing rift between him and Ferdinand Eberstadt, the other top W.P.B. vice chairman whose responsibility is allocating materials.

Wilson asked all government procurement agencies to instruct their contractors to place by Feb. 6 all orders involving any of the more than 40 "critical components" if delivery by June 30 is called for. This was done Jan. 20 without public announcement.

"It's impossible for most manufacturers to meet those dates," said the spokesman for one large industrial association, who asked that his name be withheld. "We simply cannot know by that time (Turn to Page Three)

Lewis Bidding For Showdown

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Bidding for a showdown on the government's wage controls, John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers today called for a $2 a day wage increase for the nation's 450,000 soft coal miners.

The proposed raise, which would boost the miners' basic wage from $7 to $9 a day, conflicts directly with the war labor board's "Little Steel" formula—the government's wage yardstick.

The formula adopted last summer by the WLB limits increases, on the basis of cost of living adjustments, to 15 per cent of the wage paid on Jan. 1, 1941. The miners, in the spring of 1941, won a $1 a day wage increase which exceeded the 15 per cent.

In announcing the union's demand last night, Lewis repeated his denunciation of the "Little Steel" formula as "arbitrary and miserably stupid." Although acknowledging that the formula bars a $2 a day increase, he said the union thought it had "a very compelling case."

NEW HINTS OF PEACE PLAN CIRCULATING

Spanish Embassies in Brazil
And Chile Issue Denials
Of Rumors Heard In Buenos Aires

SPAIN AS GO-BETWEEN

BY EDWARD D. BALL
London, Feb. 4.—(P)—The belief that Adolf Hitler may be preparing another peace offensive was expressed today in neutral quarters in London who said action might be initiated through Spain or Sweden or both.

These sources, which insisted on remaining anonymous, said there have been strange developments in Berlin since the Casablanca conference which suggest an impending move for a negotiated settlement in spite of the unsolicited denials from the Spanish embassies in Brazil and Chile that Generalissimo Franco had been designated a go-between.

The Spanish denial evoked considerable speculation concerning its motive especially in the absence of any widely circulated reports that Spain had been chosen as a peacemaker.

One unofficial peace plan said to have been tried out in Stockholm was reported to have stipulated that Hitler and the Nazi party would retire from politics and hand Germany over to the army. This appeared, however, to have got no farther than Sweden.

Indications that peace rumors are sweeping the conquered lands of Europe were seen in reports passing through the Spanish censorship that the bottom had dropped out of the Paris black market because of a widespread feeling that the war would end soon.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 4.—(P)—Diplomatic quarters cast about today for the reasons which impelled the Spanish government to instruct its embassies in Rio de Janeiro and Santiago to deny last night that Adolf Hitler had asked Generalissimo Francisco Franco to act as intermediary in a peace proposal.

JUDGES DISCIPLINE ATTORNEY KAUFMAN

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—(P)—Five U. S. district judges sitting as a special court resume hearings today on a recommendation that Morgan S. Kaufman, Scranton and New York attorney, be disciplined for "grossly unprofessional conduct."

The recommendation was made by three special examiners who investigated Kaufman's role in dealings between William Fox, bankrupt former movie magnate, and J. Warren Davis, former judge of the U. S. Circuit Court. Kaufman's counsel contended as the hearings opened yesterday that the examiners exceeded their authority and that evidence did not warrant their recommendation. Some testimony, he added, was hearsay.

TWO RECOVERED FROM ROCK SLIDE IN MINE

Girardville, Feb. 4.—(P)—The bodies of Thomas Kane, 44, of Centralia, and Aurilio Garson, 54, of Girardville were recovered last night from a coal hole in which they were entombed Tuesday by a rock slide.

Deputy Coroner Harlow Davis said Garson was suffocated and Kane crushed to death 225 feet below the surface. The makeshift working is a mile east of Girardville.

Ickes For Extending Pleasure Driving Ban

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Petroleum Administrator Ickes said today he favored banning pleasure driving throughout the nation, with modifications for places "right in the oil field country" and places lacking adequate alternative transportation.

The ban on pleasure driving in the eastern states, he told a press conference, should be extended to "the whole country" wherever it would result in accumulation of oil supplies needed for essential purposes.

Ickes disagreed with a report by his oil industry advisory body, the Petroleum Industry War Council, that the supply outlook offered some hope for relaxation of the ban in the east by the end of March.

OPA Planning Standardized Rules on Meat

Fairer Distribution is Expected to Result From New Order

COMING IN TWO WEEKS

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Fairer distribution of meat among stores within a few weeks was predicted today by officials of the Office of Price Administration.

They expressed confidence that this would result from the promulgation of their few standardized retail meat prices. The first of these, on pork, will be issued in two weeks, and subsequent rules on beef, veal, lamb and mutton are scheduled to follow between that date and the beginning of meat rationing, approximately April 1.

The new prices are expected to cure some inequities among individual stores. At present retail meat prices must not be higher than each individual store charged for similar cuts in March, 1942. This has "squeezed" those stores—particularly chain stores and other cut-rate establishments—whose March, 1942, retail prices weren't high enough to cover present wholesale costs.

Under the new rules, every store of the same type in the same community will have the same prices. The nation will be divided into 10 zones and in each zone the government will specify, in cents per pound, maximum retail prices for every cut of meat.

Slight differentials will be maintained between independent stores, chain stores, and supermarkets.

Alaska Fliers Are Rescued

Ketchikan, Alaska, Feb. 4.—(P)—Rescue of two of six persons who vanished on a Seattle-Ketchikan flight January 5 provided Alaska today with another modern epic of survival in the northland's inhospitable wilderness.

The two men, found on an isolated beach yesterday by a coast guard patrol boat, disclosed the death of the lone woman aboard the plane, but held out hope for the rescue of the other three men. All were alive when the two men last saw them. One of the missing three was the pilot, Harold Gilliam, famed for his escapes in years of Alaska flying.

The two men rescued were Percy Cutting of Hayward, Calif., an Alaskan employee of Morrison-Knudsen Company, and Joseph Tippets, a Civil Aeronautics Administration employee at Anchorage.

Both were weakened by their mid-winter experience, but were reported recuperating.

DEFENSE LINE IS TESTED FOR WEAK POINTS

British Eighth Army Appears to Be Massing For Next Attack in Tunisia Squeeze

PATROL MORE ACTIVE

By the Associated Press
London, Feb. 4.—In sea and air blows paving the way for heavy land assault in North Africa, the Allies announced today the destruction of 14—perhaps 16—Axis supply ships in the narrow mid-Mediterranean approaches to Tunisia, where the German-Italian defense line was tested anew for weak spots.

British forces captured a height known as Hill 648 in a renewal of fighting six miles southeast of Bou Arada in the Jebel Mansour area, midway between Medjez El Bab and Robaa, an Allied communique said. It described the gain, however, as a "limited success."

Meanwhile field dispatches reported that the American striking force which captured Sened and dug in a mile east of the town on the rail line through Maknassy to the coast had taken prisoner an Italian general.

Allied bombers attacked the port of Gabes and enemy positions near Maknassy, and for one of the few times since the start of the fight for Tunisia they lost more planes than they shot down. The communique said six Axis planes were destroyed to eight Allied planes missing.

Strong German forces apparently still held important Faid Pass on the central Tunisian front, inland from Sfax, where they had held against an American counterattack.

The British Eighth Army appeared to be massing for its next.

Legislature Stalled Over Cutting Down

Harrisburg, Feb. 4.—(P)—Delay in submission of the governor's budget recommendations and lack of assembly action today stalled two important appropriations committees in a suggested study on ways to trim state expenses.

Proposed action and a plan for carrying it out are outlined in a resolution which must pass the house before going to the senate. Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) head of the house appropriations committee, declared:

"We can't do much until we get the budget figures from the governor."

The resolution—introduced by Rep. Walter E. Rose (R-Cambria)—follows Martin's suggestion to the assembly that "appropriation (Turn to Page Nine)

PET REVEALS DEMISE

Pittsburgh, Feb. 4.—(P)—Neighbors investigating the whining of an aged German-Shepherd dog yesterday found the pet lying despondently near the body of his master, Albert E. Newcomb, in a room the two shared. Friends of Newcomb told humane society officials his last request was that the dog be shot should he die. So the faithful animal was dispatched to join his master.

93,000 Killed and 9,300,000 Hurt in Accidents In Nation

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—The National Safety Council today added up the score for accidents on the U. S. home front in 1942—93,000 killed, 9,300,000 injured, at a cost of $3,700,000,000—and noted that the time lost during the year through non-fatal injuries to workers alone was equivalent to a shut down of the nation's entire shipbuilding and aircraft industries for 54 days.

If both fatal and non-fatal accidents to workers were included, the council said, the loss of time, material and damaged machinery would be sufficient to have built 22,000 heavy bombers.

Bright spot of the survey, however, was the eight per cent decline in the all-accident toll as compared with 1941, resulting in a saving of 8,500 lives. The traffic category made the largest contribution to the improvement, 1942's motor vehicle deaths totaling 27,800, down 30 per cent, or 12,200 from the all time high of 40,000 in 1942.

Norris Gets 'E' Flag For War Efforts

The Times-Mirror is in receipt of a copy of the Tulsa Daily World and a finely printed program describing the award of the "E Flag" award to the machine company of W. C. Norris Mfg. Co., at Tulsa, Okla. Nearly 700 persons, most of them employees of the company, attended the ceremony. W. G. Skelly, Oklahoma oil man was master of ceremonies and Col. Merle H. Davis, chief of the ordinance district had charge of the program and made the award.

The Norris company has been manufacturing oil field supplies for many years and when the war production demands were made known the firm began the manufacture of mortars. It is now a projectile plant in every sense of the word and is turning out a huge amount of projectiles.

The "E Flag" was presented to Mr. Norris who responded by pledging a continuance of the good work of the plant.

Mr. Norris is a brother of Ray Norris, of this city, and for many years conducted an oil field supply shop at Tiona.

F. V. Conarro Good Citizen Ends Career

Frank V. Conarro passed away at the family home, Crescent Park, at 4 a. m. today.

One of the best known of Warren's citizens, Mr. Conarro will be missed by a large circle of friends. Stricken with a sudden illness just one week ago his condition became worse until his life ebbed away. Never too robust, Mr. Conarro during his life's span suffered several serious illnesses in one of which at least his life was despaired of but he recovered to live many added years.

Born in Warren October 14, 1862, and lived in Warren his entire life. His youth was spent in Warren's grade schools and he attended the Warren High School, graduating in the Class of 1882. Taking up the jewelry trade he joined with the late Frank Wyman and the firm of Wyman and Conarro had a long existence. For many years the firm had a store in a room now occupied by the United Cigar Store. In 1920 the business was disposed of to the late Claude Nichols, after a continuous business experience of 42 years.

Always civic conscious, Mr. Conarro served two terms as a member of the town council and for the past 15 years he has served as court clerk in the county courts. During that time he also served as librarian of the county law library. When the court house was remodeled he supervised the moving of the law books into the new library and arranged them on the book stacks. One of the first to see the possibilities of beauty in Crescent Park he spent much time planting flowers and shrubs in the parkway before it was given to the city. He was a lover of the out of doors and hunted and fished for years. Happy amid the beauties of nature he drove miles over the earth roads of Warren county and was familiar with the tree-bowered country lanes.

Affiliated with the Presbyterian church, he was a man of the highest character and one of strictest integrity. He was a life-long member of the I. O. O. F. and their ritualistic service will be used at the grave.

He was married to Ollie Staples, October 14, 1895, and his widow survives him with one sister, Mrs. H. P. Wiborg, Cincinnati, and one brother, C. T. Conarro, also one nephew, Harry W. Conarro, of this city.

Funeral services will be held from the home Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. with the Rev. Harold Warren, of the First Presbyterian church officiating.

Jackson, president and general manager; K. W. Nichols, vice president and assistant general manager; D. H. Mowell, secretary-treasurer.

CADETS LEAVING

Several Warren boys are leaving today and tomorrow to report for training as aviation cadets at the Army Air Forces training center at Miami, Fla. They include Dale Bean, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Bean, North Irvine street; Charles R. Knupp, 113 Pioneer street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Knupp, Baltimore, Md.; Wilson Brydon, son of Mrs. Helen E. Brydon, 224 Central avenue. In addition, Eugene R. Schuler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emore Schuler, of Pleasant township, will report at an eastern reception center for assignment as an air corps enlistee.

"The confusion is terrific. I've been calling WPB myself and I've learned that telephone calls and telegrams are pouring into WPB from all parts of the country."

This industry representative said at least one of WPB's industry divisions—which are responsible administratively to Eberstadt, not Wilson—had told questioners to "throw the thing in the waste basket" and disregard it.

No Notice Of Raid Rule Is Received Here

Warren county's Council of Defense has as yet not been officially notified of the changes made in the rules governing the new blackout regulations. The regulations have been printed in the papers of the state but no bulletins carrying them have been received by the Council Chairman. However, they are expected to arrive within a few days.

The possibility of an air raid test in the state before February 17 has been ruled out by revision of state blackout regulations to conform with the new regulations. This was officially announced today by the State Council of Defense.

A. Boyd Hamilton, acting director of the Council, said the state's rules are being revised under the directive issued by the Third Service Command setting up the new system, which was recently given in the Times-Mirror, of yellow, blue, red and white alerts to indicate progressive stages of an actual or simulated attack from the air.

Mr. Hamilton, acting director has since the State Council was erected been secretary of the Council and in that capacity has scored a record. For years he has been affiliated with various divisions of the State Government and is in fact a career man in state affairs. Most capable in every way and highly efficient he has scored a success in all posts to which he has been assigned and over the state he is considered as a worthy successor to Dr. A. C. Marts as State Director of the Defense Council.

claims broadcast by DNE in Germany. A communique, recorded in London by the Associated Press, said one cruiser had been sunk, one heavily damaged and 33 planes shot down in a Japanese attack on "enemy naval forces" south of Santa Isabel Island Monday. Santa Isabel lies north of Guadalcanal. There was no comment on the report from United States sources.

Like angry hornets, the bombers of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command continued to harass and distract the enemy by raiding his bases on New Britain and Bougainville islands.

News of the engagements between naval units, which may be the largest yet arrayed in the Pacific war, was withheld here because of military considerations. The Japanese claims were described by a naval spokesman as "grossly exaggerated." Secretary Knox said the Japanese were fishing for information.

Last night's communique reported that United States soldiers on Guadalcanal, smashing through stiff enemy resistance, had continued their advance to the west and crossed the Bonegi river, half a mile east of Tassafaronga. Sixty Japanese were killed in the fighting.

FLYNN FIASCO

"What happened to Edward J. Flynn, aspirant for the Australian diplomatic post, is one of the healthiest signs of the current times," says S. Burton Heath in an editorial written for the Times-Mirror and NEA Service, Inc. "The episode has unfortunate undertones, of course. Many regard the president's nomination of Mr. Flynn as a sad error, while others feel that the Senate's attitude was unfortunate."

It is not necessary now to rehash the arguments, pro and con, whether Mr. Flynn should have been confirmed. We should all be able to agree that, in the midst of total war, it is encouraging to have watched the democratic process work itself out exactly as it used to in days of peace.

To those who were worrying lest war restrictions were bringing us under a dictatorship, there now is an unanswerable rebuttal. The Flynn incident proved that this still is a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

For reasons which are not pertinent to this line of thought, the President wanted to send Mr. Flynn to Australia as minister and to the Southwest Pacific as personal roving ambassador.

If we had drifted under the quasi-dictatorship that some have professed to believe, Mr. Flynn would have gone to that mission regardless of how much popular disapproval his appointment created.

But, this being a democracy, those who considered Mr. Flynn unfit for so important a post did not hesitate to shriek to high heaven, to oppose the President's choice, to present their arguments. They were able to persuade enough Democratic senators to assure defeat of Mr. Flynn.

Returning from his North African trip to learn of the situation, the President accepted the will of the majority and withdrew the nomination.

This outstanding aspect of the incident is surrounded by many almost equally intriguing side issues.

One, of utmost importance, is the revitalization of Congress which was indicated. The Republicans, unfortunately but naturally, are in the apparent position of having taken a partisan stand against the former Democratic national chairman—though who shall say whether many or most were not actuated by sincere convictions?

In any given instance—in the Flynn case, for example—some will applaud and some will lament the result. In a democracy none should condemn the insistence of the people's representatives, regardless of party lines, upon exercising the powers vested in them by the Constitution.

Axis propagandists have been proven wrong. Democracy can live and function lustily in the midst of total war.

TIMELY SUGGESTION

The right of any business to advance by the initiative of its owner or management, operating on a competitive basis, has given this country a merchandising system that is now of incalculable value to consumers in money saved, and in the greater variety and better quality of products and merchandise offered.

Retail stores never before faced such problems as today, and those in Warren are no exception. Securing goods for distribution requires expert knowledge, foresight and an understanding of laws and regulations heretofore unheard of in this nation.

There is one request that merchants now make of all consumers: Between now and the time new war rationing takes effect late in February, don't hoard.

The merchants ask this because they are cooperating with the government to the utmost to avoid disruption of consumer supplies. Merchandisers, no matter how efficient, cannot distribute products that don't exist.

Lend-lease and military demands have made deep inroads on supplies of all kinds. It is up to the consumer to cooperate in dividing what is left. That is one way one can help in the war effort.

Another valued and enterprising citizen is lost to Warren in the death, early today, of Frank V. Conarro. His interest in the beautification of Warren will ever live as a monument to his farsightedness and love of the outdoors.

It practically passed unnoticed, but today is the birthday anniversary of Charles Lindberg. He was born February 4, 1902. By the way, what has become of the flying colonel?

Inflation doesn't help anybody—not even a person who is a flat tire.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—It may be just talk, but Washington hears—That there will be little change in OPA policy or personnel now that Prentiss M. Brown has taken over the reins from Leon Henderson. Brown has indicated one of his primary objectives will be to make clear to the public why price controls and rationing must be enforced. Brown is almost as popular with Congress as Henderson was unpopular, and observers say that the absence of Congressional criticism will go far toward giving the new administrator the kind of public favor he will need to put over the price control and rationing program.

That the ban on "pleasure driving" is to be made nationwide. Reports on effectiveness of the program in the 17 eastern states and District of Columbia are not in yet but indications are that it has done more to save rubber and gasoline than anything else that has been devised.

THAT War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt's declaration that women would not be called up to register now and would not be drafted was a stop-gap decision, designed primarily to give the women a chance to get into industry and the armed forces of their own volition. The opinion here had been that the threat of registration and possibly selective service had slowed down voluntary action. The draft of women into the military forces and war industries will be the final step in all-out mobilization.

THAT small business is going to get some real relief soon. Not since war began has "small business" had so many representatives in Washington, and some are making themselves heard. As one of these expressed it: "It has only been in the last few months that we really knew how badly we were hit." It took that long for stocks and markets to dry up.

That no matter what action is taken on pay-as-you-go tax plans, taxpayers will have to file their 1942 returns March 15 and pay their first quarter tax. Pending legislation ignores the March 15 payment altogether, but consensus now is that nothing will be done to forestall the March 15 payment. Even if legislation is passed before that date, provision might be incorporated in the bill to force the first quarter payment.

Stamp News

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—When bouquets are passed out for quick conversion to war industry, there ought to be a special arrangement of red-white-and-blue orchids for the Walt Disney flicker factory.

Disney's pre-war output, for entertainment only, amounted roughly to 32,000 feet of film, or about two features and 20 short subjects a year. The figure was equalled or topped in the first month of 1943—and the estimate for the year is between 250 and 300,000 feet, despite loss of large slices of his personnel to the service!

The productions include many technical training films for the U. S. Navy, delivered at cost, several short films in color under the auspices of the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, and the feature "Victory Through Air Power" based on Maj. Alexander P. de Seversky's best-seller. There is a second, outh American feature, in work, plus the usual Disney shorts and two features, "The Gremlins" and "Peter Pan."

THE Disney campus, of course, is not the same easy-going place it used to be. You sign in and out when visiting there now, and you wear an identification badge just as when visiting an aircraft factory.

But there's an even more noticeable difference: Disney now uses many live actors to assist his paint-pot characters. They're time-savers. In some films Walt is using them where they deliver the same results as cartoons would, reserving his lists for effects impossible to obtain otherwise. There are live actors in "Victory," and also in "The Gremlins," but "Peter Pan" will be exclusively paint-pot.

I SAW a few of Walt's educational shorts the other day and I never saw education made so painless. There's one called "The Wizard Scourge" which deals with malaria and its carrier, the Anopheles mosquito. In color, it pictures details how the mosquito does its dirty work, then enlists the aid of the Seven Dwarfs (their first screen work since "Snow White") to demonstrate protective measures. There's another, "Defense Against Invasion," which likens the body to a walled city, its people "mobilized" on a war basis through vaccination so that when enemy germs attack they are repulsed. There's history and information in "The Grain That Built a Hemisphere," the story of corn, its development and present and prospective uses.

If pictures like these ever become part of the little red schoolhouse's attractions, the ancient art of playing hooky will disappear. What's more, the kiddies may have to fight for their seats—with their own papas and mamas—when Prof. Walt Disney takes the platform.

Two Arrests Clear Many Depredations

Some good detective work by deputy Sheriff L. E. Linder and highway motor police of the Warren and Meadville barracks coupled with the close cooperation of district Attorney J. A. Goldstein is resulting in two important arrests. By the arrest and confession of Robert Van Guilder, 17, of Grand Valley a whole string of car thefts and garage robberies has been cleared up. In his confession Van Guilder implicated Earl Mack, Enterprise. Both are now lodged in the Crawford county jail where they will be tried before the Crawford county judge.

For some time past Warren and Crawford as well as Erie counties have suffered from a number of garage robberies. The Tripp Garage at Garland; the Schwab and Smith Garages at Titusville; one at Perry; one at Titusville and one at Union City were broken into. Most of the garages yielded little loot but in the one at Titusville a cash register containing $10 was taken.

Cars were also stolen and one was taken at Centerville and driven to Grand Valley where Motor Police arrested him. District Attorney Goldstein with two members of the Warren Motor Police and Deputy Sheriff L. E. Linder went to Titusville and questioned the youth. He freely confessed and told of the thefts. He also stated a pair had stolen a Ford car at Titusville belonging to Ed Moore. Titusville who works in Titusville and also an Oldsmobile from Lackawanna, N. Y., which they drove to Union City. To secure soline for their perignations they stole it from workers' cars parked back of the YMCA in Titusville. Van Guilder also told the stationers that the cash register had been stolen at Titusville and had tossed into a creek at Lackawanna, N. Y.

Future Depends Much On Women of Farms

About 150 farm women attended the opening session of the 24th annual convention of the Society of Farm Women of Pennsylvania meeting.

Honorable John M. Light, Secretary of Agriculture in his address of welcome reminded the group that a large part of the future of American agriculture depends upon the farm women. This always has been so and will continue to be true he pointed out.

"Farm women will have to share responsibility with the men, and in many cases, perhaps be leaders in thought," said the secretary. "There is no safety and security in what we plan because of world conditions but we are here to carry on. We always will look to the women as supports of prosperity in this country."

Among the resolutions adopted by the Society are: Because the scarcity of farm labor is a limiting factor in farm production, we demand that the draft boards exempt farm labor and needed sons; ask that there be a ceiling price on all necessary poultry equipment and that necessary equipment be made available; and that a committee of five women be appointed to promote and assist in the food production program in Pennsylvania.

Miss Brazee Secretary At Youngsville

The regular meeting of the Youngsville borough council was held in the new borough offices on Railroad street Monday evening. At this meeting the council accepted the resignation of W. H. Brazee as secretary and appointed Miss Margaret Brazee as secretary of Youngsville borough.

Ordinance Number 179 fixing the rate of 14 mills and levying the taxes for the year of 1943 passed first and second readings.

After the routine and regular business was completed, a settlement was made with the contractors for the construction of the building. A few items were not finished so an adjourned meeting was held on Tuesday, February 2, in the borough building.

At the adjourned meeting held on Tuesday evening in the borough building a report was given by Leo Johnson, chairman for the construction of the airplane observation post just off High street.

He reported that the building is nearly completed and will soon be ready for occupancy.

Committees were appointed by President Sanford to take care of the other matters before the council.

4-H Program Underscores Conservation

State College, Pa., Feb. 4—Intensified activities having a direct bearing on food production and conservation of food and clothing will be underscored in the 1943 objectives of Pennsylvania's 4-H clubs, according to State 4-H Club leaders of the Pennsylvania State College.

National 4-H Mobilization Week, February 6 to 14, aims to inaugurate a program unequalled in Pennsylvania's 4-H club history. Club members are being urged to better their 1942 records, although these in general have indicated production, greater conservation, and an adaptability to meet changing conditions better than ever before.

More local leaders and enthusiastic members are needed for a successful program. Young people between the ages of 10 and 29 are urged to check with extension leaders in or near their local communities to participate.

These are some of the highlights of the 1942 program: 3000 members produced 1,185,150 pounds of meat; 6747 assisted with the family garden, thereby releasing parents for other duties; one member in every 25 took complete charge of the family garden; but club members produced 27,500 pounds of honey; 1416 girls canned 32,984 jars of food; 1535 girls remodeled 3569 garments for themselves and members of their families; 10,000 club members checked their food habits; 4000 had a physical examination; and 400 clubs held special health meetings.

All club members contributed to community and wartime services. Two-thirds reported buying war bonds totaling $150,000.

Sheffield Fire Lads Battle Two Blazes

Sheffield, Feb. 2—Two alarms of fire within twelve hours gave the local fire department a busy day. The first fire coming at 8:40 a. m. when they were called to the home of Arthur Rogers on South Main street. What was thought at first to be a chimney fire, proved to be a stubborn fire between the partitions. Originating around a flue opening and rapidly gaining headway, only for timely discovery and promptness in action prevented the total destruction. Had it not been for the construction of plates between the floors, which prevented the fire from getting draft which would have carried it rapidly towards the upper floors and attic, and the entire structure would have been a roaring mass of flames and out of control. Matters were handled in an efficient manner by the department and the damage was estimated at $50.

The second alarm came at 7:15 a. m., from 1 Mill street. A Pontiac automobile owned by Joseph Pastrick caught fire from the carburetor. Prompt response by the department and with one small tank of chemical, the car was saved from destruction apparently without damage.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Endeavor was held in the church parlors of the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. O. Christenson. Mrs. C. A. Anderson had charge of the devotionals, using Micha, the 4th chapter, as her scripture, and the topic of the lesson was on "Peace." The hymns, "Come Peace of God" and "God the Omnipotent," were sung, after which the prayer was given.

Mrs. Allen Gibson gave the lesson for the day, carrying the point of "Peace" that comes after the war, and stressing the point of Christians being ready for a co-operative world after the war, and that every W. S. C. E. woman by her prayers and work through the society has a great share in the lasting peace which we hope will come after this world war.

The meeting was then favored by a vocal solo, "Prayer," by Mrs. Axel Christenson, accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Neilson, of Clarendon.

Secretary-treasurer reports were read and accepted, and a very interesting report showing the society is doing good work, starting a new year, and is urged that the presence and co-operation of the members each month will be appreciated.

Mrs. Neilson gave a short talk of the good work being done in the society at the Clarendon church, and spoke of the responsible work which is to be done by the secretary of the local church activities. Mrs. Paul Carlson is the chairman, and Mrs. Christenson appointed the following ladies to assist her in her work: Mrs. Allen Gibson, Mrs. Howard Perry, Mrs. F. E. Shick, Mrs. A. D. Brainer and Mrs. Wilbur McKean.

Mrs. Wayne Chamberlain and Mrs. Harry Mickle were appointed on the membership committee. Mrs. Kenneth Neilson favored the audience by two instrumental numbers, which were very much enjoyed. Mrs. Axel Christenson and Mrs. James Playford were two new members to join the society.

A large number of aprons were brought for the sale and members who did not send them kind-

Second Half Championship To Be Decided Saturday Night

O'Connors Travel To Warren For Deciding Tilt With Blomquists

The all-important game of the "Y" league will be played Saturday night on the local gym at 8:30 o'clock to decide the winner of the first half championship when the Blomquists and O'Connors of the league clash.

Each posting records of four won and one lost the teams will battle on the local hardwood for the first half title Saturday night. The Blomquists are in motion this year. The Blomquists lost only one game and that was a close one to the Rock Cleaners which wasn't decided until the final gun, and the O'Connors have been defeated by the Furnitures, which records at least set up the superiority of two teams in the league.

Playing a brilliant type of ball this year the Sheffield Irish have won four out of five behind the perfect zone defense they have mustered together in the last few years and the defense crew is a tough proposition for any team in the county. Starting out this year with the same outfit they have held in championships down through the last four years the O'Connors lost only the services of one man up until the present date and are intact for Saturday's tilt which definitely is a "natural."

Last night all the league matches of the Struthers-Wells League went to Foreman A. still undefeated. Plate Floor, Heaters, and Foreman B on clean sweeps over X-Ray, Boring Mills, Engineers, and Machine Shop respectively. quiring the services of Jimmy Urbanski the Furnitures have added one more stellar performer to quintet. A welcome addition, Jim scored heavily on Struthers last week, racking up 19 points. Rounding out their fast aggregate have John Pick, 1941 third place winner for the Blue and high scorer for the District Nine playoffs; Bob Lunquist, leading scorer in both leagues and continual threat for the opposition, now leading the "Big Six"; Mike Blech, last year star football player and a high scoring guard for the Furnitures; Bob Wright, towering center who made the Warren High varsity but disqualified in 1931 and a steady player; to top off their ace quintet they boast the services of Louis Check, fast center and forward who has been going wild on the "Y" court this year averaging 10 counters a game.

What will happen remains to be seen, but the tilt tomorrow will lead the sports program for the week and besides being decisive for first half honors, is sure to be one of the best games seen on a local court to date. Special accommodations are being arranged for an expected capacity crowd. The first game at 7:30 will be a "grudge" battle between the Rock Cleaners and the Struthers-Wells crew and will decide the holder of the cellar spot. For excitement this tilt will rank a close second to the title-race. Joe Waples will referee the main "go."

Covering The Sports Front

—WITH—
"BOB" JOHNSON

Fans aren't going to be able to attend the Bradford game this Friday, though we know the road would be a solid line of cars if they could—There's no denying those Owls are good, because any team that has run up 30 victories in 31 starts has something on the ball and two of those wins were at the expense of the local quint.

They have Dudy Frisina back again this year and fans of Warren remember this little crack shot from last year, in fact he's received recognition from sports writers all over the state as being one of the best seen in years—He's going to be born in the Dragon's side this year and will require a darned good man to handle him and stop him from shooting—He's a dead-eye of the first water.

Tossing off the best guard Warren has on Frisina will still leave open the job of taking care of Johnny Peckham—We didn't see much of him last year—But he's built himself a rep around Owl Town that will ask for plenty of duty from one of the Dragon guards.

Another dark horse is Lloyd Mangell, the center, but reports have it that his board work is a thing of perfection—He's rangy and a clever ball handler—But his shooting prowess hasn't been rated so high—He was held scoreless by Mt. Jewett.

At the guard slots you surely remember Hal Witten for his playing last year on Beatty—He's a man that is seldom scored high on—In fact he's one of the best guards in the section, and was last year too—A fair shot, he made 8 points against a weaker Mt. Jewett outfit, and he's a bulwark on defense.

Rounding off their starting team, Don Walker, brother of the one we saw too much of here four years ago, fills up the other guard—Not rated as high as his brother was, he is nearly in a class with his running mate Witten on the defense.

Bradford only took Jamestown by 5 points in their first meeting though and the Red and Green outplayed them all over—While Warren beat Jamestown in not too hard a contest winning by 6 points—Of course the Dragons have lost Jim Urbanski, Bud Matthews and Al Buerkle and are playing them on their own floor—But with the appearance the substitutes Kolpein threw in against Strong Vincent here last week the locals have all the chance in the world of taking number 10...

Wouldn't it be swell if Warren had a driving range or even a couple of holes finished off for the enjoyment of local golfers who won't be able to make any links this summer—They could walk over to that place—if we had it and practice in off-hours till Hirohito gives up—The boat has been missed—The Monday "Big Six" has included Jim Urbanski already and he's only played one game out of the three—He scored 19 points against the Struthers-Wells five—

KINZUA LOSES CLOSE ONE TO INDEPENDENTS

The newly formed Kinzua Independents lost a close one to the Sheffield Quint yesterday by a 32 to 31 score on the Sheffield court. Paced by Trosen of Kinzua, with his deadly set-shots, the Kinzua quint came close in the final minutes but couldn't quite make the grade. Richwalsky led the Sheffield five to their win with 10 counters.

Penn Doubles Finishes Up

At the Penn Bowling Center the doubles team of Harvey-Burgeson with a grand total of 3619 was more than enough to take the first place prize. Going into the last night with a total of 2461 and on Harvey's 456 and Burgeson's 467 they had enough reserve left to remain in the lead over the second place team of Culbertson-Vesico who had an even 2400 total combined with the evening's scores of Culbertson's 355 and Vesico's 536 they totaled 2545 to take second place money just 16 pins over the third place team of Armstrong-Lucia who had total of 2439 plus Armstrong's 345 and Lucia's 421 to total 3529.

Next Wednesday the second round of mixed-doubles will start at 9:00 o'clock with 16 couples ready for action. The winners of this event will be determined from a four week affair across the alleys. Anyone who wishes to enter call or leave your teams at the alleys.

Continuation of Nation's Favorite Commented On By Prexies of Both Big Leagues

RY JUDSON BAILEY
New York, Feb. 4.—(P)—One voice of optimism has sounded a rallying cry for baseball since the war manpower commission issued its list of non-essential jobs.

It came last night from Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who defended the value of baseball for morale and said: "It is certainly to be assumed that the government did not leave out the job classification of baseball players by oversight."

Taking issue with the pessimistic reactions of other major league owners, Rickey asserted in a statement that if the assumption were correct that omission of baseball as non-essential was no oversight, "then the manpower commission must have believed that certain professional activities in the field of recreations should be continued and that these activities properly regulated are worthwhile agents in the maintenance of the fighting morale, not only of our home folk but of our armed forces in America and throughout the world."

Sports are continuing in Great Britain and in Russia, he said. "At the very time when the siege of Leningrad and Moscow were most keenly felt, the spirit of our people kept up the spirit of our people."

Problem of the WIRE CAGE

BY JOHN DICKSON CARR

Chapter 12
"WHAT do you mean, you're a rich woman?" Hugh asked. "Uncle Jerry Noakes's orders. If either Frank or I die before the marriage, the survivor inherits the lot." Once more there was a vast pause, while wind stirred in the trees. She added: "That's what you call motive, isn't it?"

"I know exactly what they'll say," Brenda went on. "They'll say I waylaid Frank on his way back from Kitty's, to tell him the marriage was off. They'll say he got into one of his rages; and Frank's rages are a thing to remember. I can tell you. They'll say I lost my head, and it might have happened like that! And my fingernail is torn off in his collar. And only my footprints go out to him and come back. I'm caught, Hugh."

"No." "You mean there's a way out?" "Yes. This is a frame-up. Why was that tabloid newspaper left in the pavilion today? Why did Frank know so much about the attempted suicide of a girl called Madge Sturges? Why did a superintendent of police come here? He stopped. "Good God, I've forgotten all about him! He's not still at the house, is he?" "No, that's all right. Maria told me he left just before the storm. She didn't know what he wanted. Something about a car, she thought."

"It still looks queer," Hugh said thoughtfully. "But if it's a frame-up—well, we've got to meet it with a frame-up."

"You mean—fake a defence?" "Yes. Now tell me. Do you think you can be convincingly, if I tell you exactly what to say? No, don't jump at it. Think before you answer. If you can't, we'll have to try something else."

"I can!" "I know it! But, oh, Hugh—I mean, won't we get into trouble?" "Quite possible. But it's certain trouble as things stand now."

"I'm with you," said Brenda, with a fierce joy in her voice. "How I'm with you! What do you want me to do? Just tell me."

FIRST, forget everything you've told me except the fact that you came down here, which Maria knows and we can't deny. Second, we'll forget all that case you built up against yourself; that's rubbish: there are a dozen objections to it: except for one thing—the footprints. They're a fact. The only thing juries understand. So the footprints must go. Have you got any gardening tools here?"

"There's the tennis-court things, behind the pavilion. Roller, wooden rake to smooth the court with."

"That'll do." He looked down at her shoes, which were gritty-brown and caked almost to the ankles. "Didn't you tell me she had a pair of spare tennis shoes here?"

"Yes, in the locker." "Go and put them on." "Why?" "Go and put them on. Bring the other shoes to me. Hurry!" Brenda hurried.

Without knowing it, they had been speaking in urgent whispers. The place was very quiet. That watery half-light, in which details are blurred but outlines

Chapter 13
OLD Nick, Dr. Nicholas Young, awoke on his couch to find Maria the maid bending over him and shouting at him.

He was in the long, low cool study. The windows were open. The clock on his desk, at which he blinked automatically, showed that it was just twenty minutes to eight. He relaxed, closing his eyes to shut out Maria's face and soothe the pain of his first movement.

"Dead?" Why are you screaming someone's dead?"

"Mr. Frank, sir, I'm a-telling you."

"Nonsense. He's playing tennis," said Nick.

Maria went down on one knee by the couch.

"Listen to me, Nickie," she whispered. "I'll go off my chump if you don't listen. He's dead. Somebody murdered him. I seen him myself, looking like our old Mr. Watson that put his head in the gas-oven. Your Brenda, she wanted to go down and get a picnic-hamper out of that shack where you play tennis. I said, 'All right, and get me some clothes-pecs too.' That was twenty minutes ago. And she didn't come back, and I was waiting for her to mix that salad-dressing I don't know how to make, so down I went to see what was what. And there she was with that Rowland, and there Mr. Frank was as stone-dead as I hope to live and breathe."

Nick shook his head.

"But I'm a-telling you!" "Sure?"

"I only wish I wasn't, dearie." "How?"

She made illustrative gestures on her own neck, which he watched dully.

"Who?" "They wouldn't tell me. They ordered me straight up here to ring up the police. But it was that young Rowland, if you want to know what I think. Even after poor Mr. Frank was dead, he was trying to hit him with a rake. I seen him. Only the rake wasn't long enough."

NICK tried to push himself up on one elbow.

"Is—that—true?" "May heaven strike me dead if it ain't as true as I'm here this minute," cried Maria. "They've been carrying on, Nickie. Young, he might as well know it as late. That Rowland and Miss Brenda. There they was standing guilty as ghosts, him with the rake in his hand and her standing on the porch of that shed hiding something behind her back. I don't say she had anything to do with it, mind you, but if they weren't her foot-marks going out to where poor Mr. Frank was in the tennis-court where it was wet, then I'd like to know whose they were. I saw 'em, and they know I saw 'em."

"Quiet, you vixen," shouted Nick. Now she says that she had gone too far in earnest. His sick eyes stared.

"But what was she doing down there? Why did you let her go?" "Holy Mary, did I know what she was going to do?"

"I'll tell you what you saw."

She told him what she saw, or thought she saw. "Then this Rowland spoke up sharp and quick before I could think, and he says, 'There's been an accident here,' he says: 'you'd better telephone the police.' I said, 'I'll go to Dr. Young, that's what I'll do.'"

"And that's true—what you say about the Rowland boy?"

Maria, at a wild loss for words, merely raised her right arm as though taking an oath.

"Help me up," said Nick.

"Yes, dearie. There's another thing, too. That police-officer's back again."

Nick propped to tangle-haired uprightness, looked so sick that she held him still and repeated the statement.

"What police-officer?" "That Superintendent Whits-bisname, that was here before Hadley, he says his name is."

"But how did he get here so soon?"

"He didn't come about that," said Maria. "He come to see you again, and said it was important. I said you'd skin me if I ever woke you up between tea and dinner. This was before 'na' past seven, just before I went down to threatening a game of soccer in the famous Dynamo stadium in Moscow was attended by approximately 100,000 people.

"If sports are permitted to interfere remotely in the war effort they should not be tolerated for one minute," he said, but if they continue as a helpful agent in the field of public morale, "then they should be encouraged and sustained by the government itself. And most surely, so long as there is doubt about it, the question should be resolved in favor of public morale."

From officials of other clubs came this comment:
"Warren Giles, Cincinnati Reds—

"We never have claimed to be essential."

Clark Griffith, Washington Senators—"I hope some means can be found to continue the sport."

Alva Bradley, Cleveland Indians—"I believe baseball should go as far as possible to provide entertainment and relaxation, but not at the expense of depriving industries of needed manpower."

The principal thing now is to win the war and if baseball interferes with the big job ahead it should be discontinued."

Jim Gallagher, Chicago Cubs—"I don't believe there are more than 30 players in the entire country over draft age who are capable of playing major league baseball."

U. S. Bombers Raid Targets Over Germany

since the start of the war, carried on the RAF's campaign against the U-boat by striking at the sources of Germany's undersea power.

The British said that Hamburg's big ship-building yards turn out more U-boats than any other place in Germany. Hamburg is Germany's second city, with a population of 1,700,000.

The RAF attacked Hamburg 24 hours after it had hit Cologne with 100 block-busting 4,000-pound bombs and thousands of incendiaries.

The German news agency DNE reported that the RAF apparently was following through with a day-light raid.

Further indications that the British and possibly the United States air force were making one of the biggest daylight air offensives of the war came soon after noon today when Allied bombers and fighters were heard roaring across the Strait of Dover. They appeared to be heading in the direction of Abbeville.

Today's German communiques referring briefly to the raid on Hamburg last night claimed that 28 British planes were shot down "in militarily ineffective attacks" on the urban area of the port city.

Meanwhile there was slight enemy activity over coastal areas of northeast England early last night. Bombs were dropped at scattered points but it was stated authoritatively they caused only slight damage. No casualties were reported.

Railroad Dog Ends Service With NYCRR

"Bum" has passed away. Bum was the only thoroughbred railroad dog in the world and he died Friday, January 28, at his post in Warren. Bum was a railroad veteran. His place of birth is unknown, but he arrived on the scene of action in the spring of 1941. In the two years of his service he was busy at various positions with conductors, switchmen, engineers and secondhands. Every employee on the local division of the New York Central knew Bum and he answered the salutes of the men with a lassy bark and a wave of his tail.

Funeral services for Bum were held by the section crew on January 29 and Bum was buried along the tracks where he can always hear the whistle of the engine and the rumble of the trains, also the chuck, chuck of the section foreman's motor car which he loved to ride upon so well.

Bum was not only known to the railroad men among whom he made his home but he was also known about town and was a favorite among the children who reside in the vicinity of the New York Central station here.

Advocate of "Pay-As-You-Go" Plan is Witness at Hearing

pay-as-you-go tax legislation, but emphasized that he did not mean that he advocated the Ruml plan.

The three most important differences between him and the treasury, Ruml said in a prepared statement he read to the committee, "are one point of fact, one point of principle and one point of policy."

For more than a year Ruml has proposed all-out forgiveness of the year's taxes to put individual income tax payers on a current basis.

He insisted that the government would, in the long run, lose no revenue through cancellation of taxes due on 1942 income and payable this year and urged that the cancellation should be made applicable to taxpayers in all branches.

Referring to a treasury study of the advisability of deferring or spreading over a period of time part of the liability due on 1942 income while at the same time collecting currently on 1943 income, Ruml said no current collection program could be applied at the rates necessary as long as the 1942 tax debt is simultaneously payable.

Randolph Paul, treasury general counsel, has argued for two days against the Ruml plan, contending it would lead to inflation and public clamor for wage increases.

In a prelude to Ruml's appearance, Senator Clark (D-Mo.) addressed vigorously in a radio address last night for all-out forgiveness of 1942 taxes. He decried any plan that would require a doubling up of taxes for a previous year with current collections.

New Hints of Peace Plan Circulating

Some observers saw the move as an indication of apprehension on the part of Spain lest her prestige in South America be compromised by suspicions that she was ready to serve as a Nazi cat's paw.

The embassy in Santiago issued a statement, amplifying it with the assertion that no Spanish base is serving any belligerent.

The statement did not specify where the Hitler peace offer reports were published. Certainly such reports have not attracted much attention in Argentina.

250,000 Nazis And Satellites Jammed In West Caucasus

tives shivered in thin coats and bound their feet in papers and rags to keep out the cold.

Red army headquarters said the capture of Kischnevka, 43 miles southeast of Rostov, and Lenin-gradskaya, on the Tikhoretsk-yeisk railway, threatened to split the Axis Caucasian forces estimated at more than a quarter million men.

Red army columns were now reported driving against Rostov itself from points 30 miles to the southeast, 56 miles east and 70 miles north. Soviet long-range artillery was said to be in position to shell the city.

Other Soviet troops were officially reported to have captured Zolotozhukhino, only 22 miles north of Kursk, a major German base, climbing a 110-mile Russian advance in the offensive from Voronezh.

The fall of Zolotozhukhino put the Russians back on the line where Hitler launched his 1942 spring offensive which ended in the military catastrophe at Stalingrad.

In the western air war, the British listed 16 RAF planes as missing after a smashing overnight attack on Hamburg—the second raid there in five nights and the second attack on Germany in 24 hours—while the Nazis claimed only 12 planes shot down.

The British air ministry said the port city was heavily attacked and "large fires were left burning."

Washington, Feb. 4.—(P)—Secretary of War Stimson said today a general Nazi withdrawal "in the entire Caucasus area" is now possible and he gave a part of the credit for impressive Russian victories to growing shipments of American lend-lease supplies both via the northern convoy route and via Iran in the south.

In reviewing the war's progress, Stimson said at a press conference that convoy losses through the northern routes to Russia were lessening and that a far greater per cent of the lend-lease supplies were reaching their goal.

In addition, he said those supplies being shipped around Africa by the southern route were being speeded to the Russian front by the new overland transportation system in Iran by American troops.

Defense Line is Tested For Weak Points

attack in a correlated squeeze on the Axis in Tunisia.

A Cairo communique reported British patrol activity along the whole Libyan-Tunisian border front, and although it mentioned no specific advances yesterday the main body of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's force apparently was piling up behind Faidia, 12 miles from the frontier.

Four small enemy vessels were sent to the bottom by Allied bombers from the east which ranged the Tunisian coast and southern Italian waters.

An admiralty communique said British submarines, hitting hard at the Tunisian routes to Russia, destroyed ten others in the past few days, and probably sank two or three more ships which were attacked.

Long range bombers, which the Italians said were American planes attacking in waves, raided Palermo, on Sicily, Ragusa, Sicily, and Reggio Calabria, at the toe of the Italian boot, also were reported attacked.

A French communique, broadcast last night by the Morocco radio, declared the Allies had made progress in the southwest of the Djebel Serdj region, a range of hills seven miles north of Oussel-ta.

Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, the French commander and high commissioner for North and West Africa, meanwhile voiced complete confidence in ultimate victory in his first radio message to the people of France.

"To all I declare my confidence in victory, my absolute certainty of German defeat," Giraud said in his message from North Africa, "our soldiers in Tunisia are showing our enemy they know how to fight and want to fight."

Giraud announced the release of nine persons, mostly Jews, who had been arrested following the assassination of Admiral Jean Darlan. Two other men still are detained at their homes and three are in jail.

Conscientious Objectors Will Work at State Hospital Here

Conscientious objectors to serving in the armed forces of the country are finding an outlet for their energies in various ways. Many are in camps where they are aiding in forestry, forest fire fighting, etc., and in other ways conserving the resources of the nation. Many are being used in other ways and Dr. Robert Israel, of the North Warren Hospital, states that yesterday he received a letter from General Hershey, of the Selective Service, approving a small number for use as orderlies and attendants at the North Warren institution. They are expected to arrive soon and will be given an opportunity for service of their fellow men. The number at first will be small, but it is expected to be added to in the months to come. The appeal was made to General Hospital due to the inability to secure persons to act as attendants.

In this connection it is interesting to note the announcement from Washington, D. C., that more than 100 conscientious objectors have volunteered as human "guinea pigs" in government tests to develop better emergency rations for life rafts, better diets for flyers and troops, and new controls for wartime diseases.

Dr. Elliott Wins Honor at Kiwanis Club

At yesterday's Kiwanis luncheon meeting Dr. J. R. Elliott was unanimously elected second vice president to fill the vacancy occurring recently when Dr. Colley was transferred to the Erie club.

Dr. Elliott has been active as director of the club and serving as chairman for house and also Saturday Evening Boys' Club committees during last year, and continuing as chairman of the SEB club for the current year.

Elected to fill the vacancy for the balance of a one-year term on the board of directors by Dr. Elliott's elevation, Commander Z. M. de Carvalho was chosen the new director. Commander Carvalho is a most popular member of the club and while his duties as a commander of the Brazilian navy are exacting, the newly elected director is active in the Saturday Evening Boys' Club work and on several international action committees.

Harold Baker, immediate past-president of the club, read the financial statement for 1942. The report was favorably received. Mr. Baker's work for the club last year was commendable and the financial status improved over former years. F. E. Kieselbauer, chairman of the auditing committee for 1942, reported the club's records were correct and all satisfactory.

H. T. Flowers commented on and presented the 1943 budget which had been approved by the board of directors. The fiscal policy will closely follow the 1942 arrangement, excepting for a nominal increase in the cost of the meals to be served to the members by the Carver Hotel.

Guests at the meeting were Edwin Sullivan, local manager of the Darling Jewelry store and Chas. Bixler, member of the Erie club. Hon. A. D. Wade, president of the Warren county, reported on a recent meeting of the Erie club he attended when Dr. Colley, former local member, was the speaker. Judge Wade stated in his opinion the speaker, Dr. Colley, was well received and was tendered quite an ovation when the meeting was concluded.

Dr. W. J. Sedwick, and Commander Carvalho, members of the club, were honored on the occasion of February birthdays.

The Times-Mirror arrangement with the Saturday Evening Boys' Club to feature the Junior Commando organization work is now ready to function. Dr. Elliott states that the SEB boys are enthusiastic in this set-up and will form five teams from their membership.

Education For Air Age To Be Featured at Chautauqua

Despite very trying circumstances, Chautauqua Institution announces its 79th session of summer schools will open as usual on July 5 and two facts kept foremost in mind in arranging the year's program are that students will be working primarily to accelerate their formal education or to prepare for special war service. Assuming the responsibility of every educational institution to modify its program and integrate its work to meet the needs of the war program, Chautauqua will offer Education for the Air Age, a teachers' training program promoted by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, dealing with such fields as mathematics, meteorology, navigation, air rules and regulations.

Other courses to orient teachers to the problems of the age and to help them understand their task of orienting their pupils are planned in topography, map reading and drawing, radio and radio communications, fundamentals of machines and electricity and pre-flight aviation.

In addition, there will be the usual course offered for teachers, undergraduates and graduate students working for degrees or preparatory for business. Plays, operas, music and the customary highlighted program of lectures will round out a worth while season's program.
